MACDONALD SEEKS MORE FRIENDLINESS

Seeks to Clear Up Disputes with French—Each Premier Awaits Action by British Experts in Paris

WRITES FRANKLY

Language More Pointed Even Than Curzon Used in Famous Note—Plainness New in European Diplomacy

(By the Associated Press)

London, March 2. — The new labor prime minister in his desire to create a more favorable atmosphere for the initiation of negotiations which he hopes may result from Labor's two experts committees now sitting in Paris, and also probably with the coming French elections in mind, has had a further exchange of letters with the French premier, M. Poincare, the text of which was issued from the foreign offices at Paris and London tonight.

This correspondence is noteworthy on Premier MacDonald's side for his extreme frankness in stating the British viewpoint and his opinions on the policy France has pursued since the war. Never before, not even in the famous Curzon dispatch, which expressed the British view that the occupation of the Ruhr was illegal, has British suspicion of French action and motives been so candidly stated. And the fact that M. Poincare in his rejoinder takes no umbrage at this frankness—so new in European diplomacy—is in itself considered a most favorable sign, although M. Poincare's letter is little more than a repetition of his many speeches on the same subject.

French Seek Only Peace.

Neither of the premiers will make any attempt to formulate concrete proposals until the expert committees have reported. Mr. MacDonald again shows that his main hope is to attain such a state of affairs in Europe as should induce the United States to cooperate in the reconstruction of Europe.

M. Poincare repudiates any design to annex a particle of German territory, and concerning British suspicions of French motives in giving military assistance to the "little entente" countries, declares that the French arms are absolutely peaceful, and he only desires that England should cooperate with the same group of countries for the purpose of maintaining peace in Europe. M. Poincare seems to think that it will be a long time before the committees are able to present their reports. In the meantime, he re-echoes most of the British prime minister's aspirations for cooperation by the two countries in the interests of a just settlement, and, on the whole, the correspondence, although it does not materially advance, certainly does not diminish, the chances of an ultimate settlement.

Some Past Disputes Avoidable.

Premier MacDonald's letter to M. Poincare, which is dated February 21, says that, encouraged by the friendly nature of M. Poincare's reply to his former letter, he desires to prepare the way for a more complete mutual understanding by an unreserved recital of "the difficulties with which I am faced and the manner in which I myself envisage the situation."

He does not desire to enter into details or advance specific proposals, but explains that: "My present purpose is to make clear to you that to my mind the differences and altercations of the past were in most cases not wholly unavoidable and to assure you of my readiness to re-examine the whole problem in its larger outlines and more essential elements."

FIRE DAMAGES POUGHKEEPSIE CITY HALL; RECORDS SAFE

Poughkeepsie, March 2 — Fire of unknown origin swept through the City hall shortly before noon today, ruining walls and furniture to the extent of $75,000. Steps were taken tonight by city officials to provide temporary quarters for offices which were damaged.

All important documents of value were locked in fireproof vaults and escaped flames which started in the cellar and spread to both floors of the building rapidly.

WILL PROBE AIR CRAFT INDUSTRY, SHIPPING BOARD

House to Consider Muscle Shoals and Senate to Consider Farmers' Relief

PUBLIC HEARINGS ON BONUS

Senate to Take Up Revenue Measure—Deficiency Bill Before House Tuesday

Washington, March 2. — The scope of congressional investigations will be broadened this week with the adoption of resolutions authorizing inquiries into the Shipping board and the air craft industry.

Both resolutions will come before the house Tuesday before the McKenzie proposal to accept Henry Ford's offer for Muscle Shoals is taken up.

Meantime, the special senate committee will meet to lay its plans for the investigation of the administration of Attorney General Daugherty and the oil inquiry will go forward Tuesday with the committee seeking additional light on the private wire which Edward B. McLean, publisher of the Washington Post, had installed between Washington and his Palm Beach cottage.

While the house in considering the Muscle Shoals question, the senate will have before it the Norbeck-Burtness bill for the relief of northwestern wheat farmers and southern cotton growers.

Boons and Supply Bills Next.

With the tax bill in the possession of the senate, the house ways and means committee found the way clear to give its attention to the soldier bonus. Public hearings will be opened tomorrow with a view to reporting by Saturday a bill which may differ materially from the measure President Harding vetoed.

The senate finance committee plans to take up the revenue bill by the middle of the week. Public hearings will be held but Chairman Smoot plans to limit the number of spokesmen to one for each trade and industry so that the committee can get to its task of rewriting the measure within two weeks.

After the Muscle Shoals measure is disposed of the house will take up the first deficiency bill of this session and the other annual supply measures will be pressed after that time. Only two, the interior and the treasury-post office, have been sent to the senate which has acted on only the interior department measure.

MORE TAXES MEANS HIGHER RAIL RATES

President of Lehigh Valley Says Roads Can't Long Defer Action

New York, March 2.—Higher railroad taxes will produce higher railroad rates and present one more obstacle to the reduction of living costs, E. C. Loomis, president of the Lehigh Valley railroad, and chairman of the committee on public relations of eastern railroads, said today in a statement which asserted that railroad taxes had increased 100 per cent during the last 11 years.

"Railroad operating costs," he said, "are more than 100 per cent greater today than they were before the war but income from transportation of freight and passengers is only 50 per cent higher. The situation has been met by an enormous effort to get more freight in each car, more cars in each train, and more work from each shop.

"In the steadily increasing tax burden the railroads face an obstacle which cannot much longer be met by efficiency. Higher rates must be provided to pay taxes. Railroad taxes in the last two months of 1923 amounted to over $1,000,000 a day and will probably exceed that figure in the 12 months of 1924."

ANGORA OUSTS CALIPH.

(By the Associated Press)

Constantinople, March 2.—Advices from Angora say that a meeting of the Peoples' party today accepted almost unanimously a bill for the deposition of the Caliph and the abolition of the Caliphate. The Conservatives raised slight opposition and suggested vesting the Caliphate either in the president or the national assembly but the proposal was rejected.

ASSEMBLY SURE TO PASS SMITH TAX CUT PLAN

First Step Will Be to Start Civil Action to Halt Extraction from Leased Naval Reserve Lands

FOLLOWS CIPHERS

Committee Wants to Know Why McLean Possesses Code of Justice Department and Carried on Rolls

(By the Associated Press)

Albany, March 2. — Administration forces in the legislature will be able to chalk up another victory—the most outstanding Democratic triumph this year—when the assembly acts favorably Monday night on the Taylor 25 per cent income tax reduction bill, as there is every indication it will do.

Classed among the highly controversial legislation at the outset of the present session, the question of a cut in the state income tax was discussed at length by party leaders and then made the basis of one or two of the "harmony" conferences between Governor Smith and Republican leaders in the assembly. Companion bills were introduced by Senator James J. Walker, Democratic floor leader, in the upper house and Assemblyman Frank J. Taylor.

Leaders Expect Passage.

When the Walker measure came up for final vote in the senate two weeks ago it was strenuously opposed by part of the Republican minority who offered a series of amendments and suggestions for change. On the final vote, however, 12 of the Republicans voted with the 26 Democratic senators. This proportion in the senate, leaders of both parties believed, combined with the assurance of Speaker H. Edmund Machold in the assembly that most of his colleagues will support the measure, makes it almost certain of passage Monday.

There are no other first-water administration bills up for final action in either house tomorrow night. It is generally believed that within the next few days committees in each house will report their respective parmanent planning division in the post office department were among the recommendations the special committee made.

The 22 Democratic members of the New York delegation in congress today went on record as favoring legislation for increases in salaries of postal employes, now pending. Their announcement followed on the heels of a statement from the White House that President Coolidge, while sympathizing with the desire for bigger postal pay envelopes, opposed such an increase at the present time on the ground of economy.

BURNS TO DEATH IN HARLEM BLAZE

Man Tells Wife to Save Self—She Escapes but He Fails to Locate Window

New York, March 2. — One man was burned to death and a fireman was seriously injured in a fire which destroyed a five-story tenement in Harlem early today.

The blaze started on the ground floor, shot up the stairs and spread rapidly through the building. Egress through the hallways was cut off and many of the tenants whose apartments had no fire escapes perched on window ledges until rescued by firemen with scaling ladders.

Stephen Kelly, who lived on the top floor of the building, was aroused by his wife, who was awakened by smoke. "Go ahead and save yourself," he told her, "I'll follow." Mrs. Kelly managed to reach a fire escape and to climb safely to the street, but her husband was overcome by smoke before he could reach a window. His body was found later.

The injured fireman is Patrick Walsh. He fell four stories, suffering a fractured skull, concussion of the brain, and other injuries.

HEATING CYLINDER, MAN KILLED BY EXPLOSION

Rochester, March 2. — A blacksmith was killed and his helper was burned severely when a steel cylinder exploded at the plant of the American Wood-Working company in Lyell avenue this morning.

Henry W. Corcoran, 46, was heating the cylinder. It is believed water was inside, and the steam generated was responsible for the explosion. A piece of steel entered Corcoran's stomach, killing him almost instantly.

The explosion whipped flames and hot pieces of steel at E. J. Regez, 32, who was helping Corcoran. Regez, burned about the face and left arm, was taken to a hospital.

JACK DEMPSEY INJURED.

New York, March 2. — Jack Dempsey, who underwent a minor operation last week, expects to get out of bed tomorrow for exercise and will return to his hotel soon, Physicians reported that the world's champion heavyweight fighter was recovering rapidly.

WILL FIX DAUGHERTY'S PART IN INQUIRY AT ONCE

Washington, March 2. — Attorney General Daugherty's part in the investigation of his administration of the department of justice, ordered yesterday by the senate, is one of the first questions to be determined by the special senate committee.

A preliminary survey of the work was taken in formal conferences today between Senator Brookhart, Republican, Iowa, chairman, and other members of the committee, and a meeting planned late tomorrow is expected to determine the scope Mr. Daugherty's counsel and the attorney general himself will be given in presenting his side. It is expected that the hearings may be opened within two or three days.

QUAKE IN TASMANIA.

Hobart, Tasmania, Mar. 2. — A severe earthquake was felt along the west coast of Tasmania Saturday night. No serious damage resulted.

HOUSE COMMITTEE TO TAKE UP BONUS

Straight Endowment Insurance Policy May Be Substituted for Older Plan

Washington, March 2. — Fiscal legislation will become a center of activity in both branches of congress this week.

The house ways and means committee will begin preparation of a soldier bonus bill tomorrow with the opening of three days of hearings while the senate finance committee will take up about Wednesday the tax reduction measure passed last week by the house.

A well defined movement which has developed in the house recently, to make the principal feature of the bonus a paid-up insurance policy for veterans, received impetus today in the announcement of Representative Bacharach, New Jersey, a Republican member of ways and means committee, that he would submit an insurance proposition as a substitute for the adjusted compensation plan.

Similar plans have been advanced by Representatives Fish, New York, and Andrews, Massachusetts, Republicans, but the attitude of veterans and their organizations on such legislation has not been determined. The plan advanced by Mr. Bacharach would provide for a straight endowment insurance policy to every enlisted man or woman who served 100 days or more, payable at the age of 62. All commissioned veterans would be excluded.

LOW PAY COSTLY TO POSTAL SERVICE

Chamber of Commerce Proposes Sliding Scale for Employes in Big Cities

Washington, March 2.—The wide disparity between the salaries paid in the postal service and wages paid in private industries is one of the principal causes of delay and irregularity in the hauling of the mails, said a report issued today by the postal service committee of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States.

A sliding salary scale for postal employes in localities where living costs are exceptionally high; a proper building program for the relief of crowded postoffices; separation of the parcel post system from other mail service classes, and creation of a per-

18 KNOWN DEAD BY TNT BLAST AND FLAMES

Holiday for Most Workers Kept Toll from Being Larger—Many Killed in Homes Near Scene

OLD SHELLS BLAMED

Explosive from Surplus Ammunition Supposed to Have Been Removed—Partly Wrecked Magazine Thought Saved

New Brunswick, N. J., March 2.—The number of known dead as the result of yesterday's disastrous TNT explosion and celluloid fire at the little town of Nixon today was placed at 18. Only one additional body, that the torso of a woman, was found today. Rescuers who worked in the smoking room throughout the day said eight persons are missing, six are unaccounted for and 60 are being treated for injuries sustained in the disaster.

The body found was that of Mrs. Arthur Dumas, who, with her three little children and a visiting woman friend, was killed in her home just outside the Nixon plant boundaries. That which remained of her body was from the ruins of her cellar. A few splintered fragments remaining of her home lay 20 feet away where the bodies of the Dumas children and Miss Janice Rockefellers, her friend, were found last night.

Magazines Believed Out of Danger

Urged on by employes who declared the bodies of six of their fellows still lay buried in the smoldering ruins, firemen with tractors today resumed tearing the masses of twisted steel and shattered tile that remain of the Nixon nitration works, 45 buildings where they manufactured celluloid novelties. But company officials urged them to discontinue the work, saying all the dead had been found.

The firemen then turned to digging among the wrecked tanks, railroad cars, and heaps of TNT and ammonia in boxes and barrels which fringe the gigantic crater marking the site of the explosion. Fires continued to burst forth in scattered heaps of the rows of magazines filled with tons of highly inflammable celluloid in sheets—most of them with doors blown off or roofs crushed in — were believed out of danger.

Supposedly Empty Shells Blamed.

The explosion is believed to have been caused by TNT from army shells which came from the Raritan arsenal on the adjoining property, although the explosive was supposed to have been extracted from the material which the War Department had sold the Ammonite company. The force of the blast, which occurred at 11:20 o'clock, was so terrific that buildings were shaken and windows rattled as far as Mineola, L. I., more than fifty miles away.

The explosion wrenched from their foundations many of the forty buildings, most of them one-story tile storehouses, of the Nixon Nitration company, on whose property the Ammonite company had leased a factory. The Nixon company is owned by Lewis Nixon of New York.

Holiday Saved Many Lives.

The list of casualties probably would have been far greater had not both companies been operating on a five day week. Most of the 50 employes of the Ammonite company and all but fifteen of the Nixon workers were at home. Many of those in nearby homes were killed or seriously injured. In a frame dwelling 200 yards from the center of the blast a woman and three children lost their lives when their home was shattered into a mass of timbers and bricks.

A stenographer in the factory was killed and her body flung through a window, landing more than 100 feet away. A [illegible] feet from the fertilizer plant with a piece of lead pipe imbedded in his chest. The trousers, stockings and shoes of another man, extricated from the debris, were torn from his body, but the upper half of his clothing was intact. Bricks, tiles and timbers were hurled a quarter of a mile away and many of the pieces struck the men and women who were running from the scene.

The property was valued at $1,150,000, but Mr. Nixon said that the damage would not cost more than $100,000 to repair.

AUTO HITS POLE; FIVE HURT.

New Haven, Conn., March 2.—Five persons were injured, two of them seriously when an automobile in which they were riding skidded and crashed into a telegraph pole here today. Those seriously injured are John Kane and Tony Florio. Kane suffered a fractured skull and numerous cuts on the body. Florio suffered a possible fracture of the skull and cuts on the body.

BOYS FIND HUMAN SKULL.

Pittsburgh, March 2. — A human skull, wrapped in a newspaper dated December 29, was found partly imbedded in the snow and ice on a hillside by boys today. Nearby was found a bullet which led police to believe that the skull had been carried there to it and tossed over the embankment from the street. Morgue officials said the skull was that of an adult.

ASSOCIATED PRESS ENTERS NEW HOME IN NEW YORK CITY

Enormous Job of Transferring Activities Effected Without Interruption

PREPARING FOR MONTHS

50,000 Miles of Telegraph Wires Used—Records Moved by Easy Stages Last Week

New York, Mar. 2. — The hum of news activity in the general offices of the Associated Press, 51 Chambers street, was hushed at 4 o'clock this morning. There was a switching of wires at a well worn switchboard and in the twinkling of an eye there was a crackling of resounding telegraph instruments in the association's new home, 383 Madison avenue.

The transfer involved the intricate mechanical readjustment of the association's news heart and the arteries of 90,000 miles of telegraph wires —enough to encircle the earth nearly four times. So carefully had plans been laid that when wires and cables were switched there was not the slightest interruption in the vast system whereby hundreds of thousands of words of news are daily distributed on 120 circuits among more than 1,200 newspaper members of the world's largest news gathering agency.

The change to quarters that afford double the floor space was necessary to keep with the constant expansion of the service.

Records Moved Last Week.

The new Madison avenue home has 21,000 square feet of floor space. There are about 150 employes in the New York headquarters. Forty operators on 20 circuits handle the daily news output, which goes to every state and territory in the union, the Central and South Americas and, through allied agencies throughout the world. On four of these circuits there is a 24-hour service.

Experts of the American Telephone and Telegraph company and the Western Union Telegraph company had been working for three months installing new telegraphic and cable equipment.

The valuable news records of many years and other necessary equipment were gradually moved last week. At the instant "30" the telegrapher's good night — was flashed over the wires at 4 o'clock this morning an uncanny silence settled over the old offices, the task of collecting the next day's news was immediately taken up in the new home.

The new offices are in a newly erected business building in the Grand Central terminal zone, bounded by Madison and Vanderbilt avenues and by East 46th and 47th streets. The offices occupy the sixth floor.

MAN KILLED IN PENNSY WRECK

Train Derailed Near Baltimore—Trees Prevent Plunge into Lake

Baltimore, Md. March 2—One man was killed and four persons were injured, none seriously, when a Pennsylvania railroad train bound here from Buffalo was derailed at Brightside, just outside this city, tonight.

The dead man was S. W. Gerhardt of Baltimore. The injured were brought to a local hospital. A relief train was dispatched to the scene to bring the passengers to the city.

Gerhardt has been stopping in Baltimore for some time, but his home is in Virginia.

Officials of the Pennsylvania railroad said that the derailed train was a connection of No. 970, traveling from Buffalo to Baltimore. There were 10 cars in the train, four of which were derailed, a dining car, a parlor car, and two day coaches, according to the report.

Trees preventing the derailed cars from rolling into Lake Roland, about 20 feet down a hillside. Lake Roland is about 15 or 20 feet deep at that point.

James Murray of Ruxton, who arrived at the scene of the wreck before the cars were righted, said he thought the derailment was caused by the spreading of the tracks.

COURT ACTION IN OIL PROBE DUE THIS WEEK

Favorable Action on Administration's 25-Per Cent Reduction Program Virtually Certain Tonight

BIGGEST VICTORY

Outstanding Democratic Attainment of Year—Automobile and Grade Crossing Legislation Expected

Washington, Mar. 2. — Court action in the oil lease cases will be initiated this week by special government counsel while the senate oil committee is to follow further the trail of the celebrated McLean telegrams.

The first step of counsel will be to bring civil action looking to the stoppage of the extraction of oil from the naval reserves in California and Wyoming and the annulment of the leases awarded by Albert B. Fall as secretary of the interior to the Doheny and Sinclair interests.

Any criminal action growing out of the oil scandal must await a more detailed study of the testimony adduced before the senate committee and an independent investigation to fill in gaps in that testimony.

More Special Counsel Soon.

Atlee Pomerene, former senator from Ohio, will have more or less general charge of the civil proceedings, while Owen J. Roberts of Philadelphia will devote himself and his staff principally to the study of the criminal phases of the case.

President Coolidge is expected to appoint this week additional special counsel to prosecute actions looking to the recovery to the federal government of Sections 16 and 36 in the Elk Hills reserve in California now operated by the Standard Oil Company of California.

The executive will select counsel especially learned in land law to prosecute this case inasmuch as the chief point at issue is whether these sections were known to be mineral bearing at the time the state of California obtained them as school lands upon the grant of statehood.

To Follow Cipher Trail.

[illegible] tomorrow, but on Tuesday. It will resume the questioning of employes of Edward B. McLean publisher of Washington Post, with regard to the private wire which the publisher had installed between Washington and his cottage at Palm Beach, Fla.

The committee also will follow the trail of inquiry into the department of justice where it has been blazed by the cipher message signed "Mary" found in McLean telegrams.

This message was in the code once used by the department's bureau of investigation and through William J. Burns, chief of this bureau, the committee will seek to learn how the code came into the possession of McLean's employes.

Burns also will be questioned as to the truth of reports that the publisher is on the roll of special agents of the justice department at a salary of $1 a month and has in his possession a copy of the present code of the department.

FIRE DESTROYS TWO SILK MILL COMPANIES AT LYONS

Lyons, Mar. 2 — Fire of an unknown origin at midnight last night completely gutted the one-story brick building in Broad street occupied by the Swan Mills company and the Lyons Silk Mills company, with a loss said to exceed $125,000.

The fire is believed to have started in the western part of the building. It spread rapidly and the whole structure soon was enveloped in flames. Firemen prevented the spread of the flames to nearby houses.

The loss of the Lyons Silk Mills company is estimated at $75,000, while that of the Swan Mills company was said to be in the neighborhood of $50,000.

BABE RUTH IMPROVES.

Hot Springs, Ark., March 2.—Babe Ruth, suffering from a slight recurrence of influenza during the past two days, continued to make rapid strides toward complete recovery today. His physicians said tonight that the baseball star will be able to resume training in a few days, unless unforeseen complications set in.

Coolidge Asks Daugherty to Resign—Vanderlip

New York, March 2. — President Coolidge was asked for the resignation of Attorney General Daugherty but has not accepted it, Frank A. Vanderlip, financial banker, declared today in an address at the Heights Free Synagogue.

Asked to elaborate on his assertion, or to tell from whom he had obtained the information, Mr. Vanderlip was noncommittative.

"I will stand on that statement, that's all," he told newspapermen.

Mr. Vanderlip added in his speech however that he had sent word to the President that he did not know whether or not communication had been received—that Daugherty should not be allowed to resign if the resignation was to be accompanied by a [illegible] letter.

Mr. Vanderlip said a new political party would be formed if the President did not "go through" with the present investigation in Washington, "wherever it leads, and purify the federal government."

"There will be one plank in its platform," he said, "and there will be two words in that plank. Be honest."

Declaring that "the men in the newspaper field have grown soft in their capacity for hard investigating service, this being especially true of the men in Washington," Mr. Vanderlip suggested the formation of a "citizens federal research bureau" to conduct investigations.

Early Industrial and Trade Activity Grows

Washington, March 2. — Increased industrial and trade activities with which the current year started continues to be well maintained as a characteristic of the country's business condition, the federal reserve board said today in its February survey of business. Financial and commercial interests, the review said, generally view the future with confidence and are shaping their policies accordingly.

With the increased business activity there was a larger volume of bank credit the statement said. The volume of commercial loans which decreased consistently after October began early in January, to increase, and the trend was marked in the first half of February when these loans were about $372,000,000, or approximately five per cent above the level of 1923. The gross growth in loans, however, were largely offset by a decrease in investment holdings with the consequence that total loans and investments of banks in the larger centers was only about $125,000,000 greater than a year ago.

During the last half of 1923, production declined and even after the sharp recovery of January and early February, the rate still was about five per cent below the high point of July, but board officials said there was no reason to believe [illegible] would be lower.

To Start New Tournament.

So successful was the tournament just closed and so many were the requests for another series of matches that Secretary Lange has worked out another schedule for the Season End tournament, which will start on Tuesday.

More names than appear in the list of teams were handed in for the tournament but in order to have the series end before warm weather it was found necessary to cut the list to six teams. The men who rolled in the last tournament were given preference. If any of the team members as named should drop out, their places will filled with those whose names are on reserve.

All the rules of the last tournament will apply in this one except that no games can be rolled off in advance.

The teams named for popular names of automobiles, will line up as follows:

Reos — Mathews, MacKenzie, Oliver, Skinner, Hotaling.

Stars — Shaw A., Hill, Cool, Cleary, Palmer.

Cadies — Bresse, Hulbert, Millar R., Lawson, Perrine.

Hupps — Dibble, Waite, Damaschke, House, Crockett.

ENTERTAIN DORPHIAN ELKS

That Schenectady Elks will henceforth have an ace high opinion of Oneonta lodge was the opinion freely expressed yesterday by the "Bills" from the Dorpian city who were the guests of the local lodge at the bowling contest and entertainment at the Elks' home Saturday. That both the first and second teams of Oneonta lodge were victorious over the Schenectady Elks is a fact which gives the local men much satisfaction but their main cause of rejoicing is tha t they were able to repay in full measure Schenectady lodge for the good time enjoyed in that city some weeks ago.

The Schenectady delegatin, 10 strong, arrived in the city on the 6:25 o'clock train Saturday evening. They were met at the station and escorted to the Elks' home where a bounteous chicken dinner, to the preparation of which Steward Caulkins had given his personal attention, awaited them. During the dinner much appreciated entertainment was provided by the Elks' Glee club and quartet. The Schenectady men added a delightful touch to the entertainment by singing their famous song, in which the charms of the "city that lights the world" are set forth. The Bon Ton orchestra played during the meal.

Following the dinner the second teams of the two lodges rolled. Oneonta was victorious in two of the three games. Kniskern was high man with a total of 556 pins for the three games.

Oneonta, No. 2—

Owens	181	145	148—474
Totals	848	675	736 2259

Following this match the company, augmented by a large number of Oneonta Elks repaired to the lodge room where a splendid program was rendered with Frank G. Sherman as master of ceremonies. The feature was a vaudeville sketch by Earl & Howard, headliners at the Palace theatre.

The entertainment over the main match was rolled. Oneonta gained sweet revenge for the defeat administered at Schenectady by winning two of the three games but not without a struggle. The last game, won by Oneonta by but four pins, was not decided until the last man had rolled.

The feature of the match was the bowling of Biagi, who toppled the maples for a total of 628 pins. Bosworth had the high total for Oneonta, 552.

Oneonta No. 1—
McKean	180	186	166—532

Burke	144	203	175—522
Totals	868	949	876 2693

Following this match other entertainment was provided and it was as a very tired but very happy bunch of Schenectady Elks who left for home yesterday morning, chanting the praises of "1312."

Selling Powell Property.

This most desirable property with large frontage on paved Chestnut street, extending down Fonda avenue to railroad lands, is now on the market for sale.

Property consists of double dwelling, three single dwellings and vacant lot. Will sell all or any part, at once, with marketable title.

Splendid factory site, because of nearness to trolley, steam road, city center, overall factory, and thriving citizens, perhaps the best site now available in Oneonta.

If sold in parcels, any of the three Chestnut street parcels are good sites for stores or garage. As dwellings all are money makers and always easy to rent.

O. H. S. TRIUMPHANT

Defeats Cobleskill Aggies, 29 to 16, and Is Still in Race for Championship

Coach Risedorph's Changes Play Spectacular Basketball Against Heavier and More Experienced Opponents—Second Half a Nightmare for State School Representatives.

Playing a whirlwind game when once started that completely baffled its opponents, the Oneonta High school basketball team defeated the fast and heavy Cobleskill Aggies, 29 to 16, in the High school gymnasium Saturday evening, thereby winning the right to meet Cobleskill High school in a game that will decide the championship of the Tri-County league. Oneonta could not get started during the first half and was trailing, 11 to 13, when intermission was called but during the final period the Yellow and White quintet played as seldom before this season, piling up 18 points while holding the State school lads to a field basket and a foul.

It was a case of five men playing a hard, steady game, following the ball every minute and shooting with accuracy when opportunity was presented. The Aggies outweighed the local lads several pounds to a man but their passwork was less speedy and accurate and they were presented with few opportunities for clean shots. The game was remarkably cleanly played, but five fouls being called on Oneonta and but one on Cobleskill. The foul shooting was very accurate, Cobleskill making good six out of seven times and Oneonta caging its one try.

Cobleskill drew first blood when Yates dropped in one from the foul line with the game but a few minutes old. Oneonta got going soon after and two field baskets by Earl Glenn and one by Delaney gave the local team a lead which it kept throughout the quarter, which ended with Oneonta ahead by a 7 to 4 score.

One from the field by Delaney on the tip-off increased Oneonta's lead at the outset of the second period. The Aggies picked up speed quickly, however, and for the remainder of the period outplayed Oneonta for the only time during the game. When the whistle blew for the half, the Aggies were ahead by the slight margin of two points, the score being 13 to 11.

Soon after the second half started R. Glenn dropped in a field basket for Cobleskill, putting the Aggies two baskets ahead but this effort was Cobleskill's last scoring rally of the game. Not another point did she get except a foul basket shot by Meyer during the last quarter.

Oneonta played whirlwind ball during the second half and with Earl Glenn, Delaney and McGuiness alternating in the scoring shot a total of nine field baskets. Oneonta's passwork was fast and sure and the ball was seldom in a scoring position for Cobleskill.

Coach Risedorph had had some misgivings concerning how his revamped combination would work but they faded soon after the game started. Glenn, playing center for the first time this season, covered himself with glory, getting the jump on his [illegible] cases, following the ball every minute and shooting five field baskets. Delaney, guarded by a man about twice his size ran him ragged and was in nearly every play. His eye was good, as five field baskets attest. McGuiness did not get started during the first half but during the final period he played his customary fast game and added ten points t his team's total. Captain Molinari, although he did not figure in the scoring, played a fast, hard game. Daley played well during the first half and Perman, who succeeded him in the second half, did exceptionally wel for a man playing out of his regular position, center. Sheppard was in the contest but a few minutes but during that time he handled the ball with accuracy and kept an eagle eye on his forward.

For Cobleskill R. Glenn did the most consistent work, although every man played good basketball from start to finish.

The attendance included practically every High school student and the organized cheering, at times almost deafening in its intensity, aided much the five men out on the floor fighting for the glory of O. H. S.

LITTLE LESSONS IN Big Sports

GOLF

How much of the putting swing should be in the wrists and how much in the arms.

Answered by
BOB CRUICKSHANK

Runner up in National Open championship, 1923, and the man who, in 1921, defeated Hutchinson, Sarazen, and Barnes in an invitation tournament at St. Joseph, Mo. Runner up in Pittsburgh tournament for professional golfers, 1922, being defeated only by Sarazen.

* * *

In the short putts I would not adgocate any "arm" movement. In a putt, say of 2 to 8 feet, the clubhead should not travel very far back from the ball. Such a putt needs only a little movement of the wrists and hands. However, in the longer putts of 15 to 50 feet, the arms should move from the elbows in conjunction with the wrists and the hands. The clubhead should only be taken far enough back so as not to disturb the body or head in any way. The most important tactor in putting, to my mind is a perfectly steady head and body, which insures an even and well balanced swing.

March Birthdays

By Feg Murray

The saying that "March comes in like a lion and goes out like a lamb," is well illustrated by two National league pitchers — Adolf Luque and Johnnie Couch, who were born the first and last part of the month respectively. As far as the two boxers go, March comes in like a lamb—are Captain Bob Roper who arrived as the month got under way—and goes out like a lion—with the birthday of Jack Johnson. Roper has had some no decision fights with notables, among them Harry Greb and Tommy Gibbons, but he is certainly a lamb compared to Jack Johnson.

Other March birthdays are Ed. Pfeffer, Dazzy Vance and Sam Langford, March 4th; Freddy Welsh, March 5th; Home Run Baker, March 13th; Johnny Wilson, March 23rd, and George Sisler, March 24th. And this cartoon feature is six months old today.

OPEN HOUSE AT SCHENEVUS.

Woman's Club Holds Delightful Friday Meeting with Mrs. Halstead.

Schenevus, Mar. 2. — The monthly "open house" of the Woman's club was held at the home of Mrs. Charles Halstead Friday afternoon. Besides the club members, several guests were present. Three readings were given as were also several Victrola selections. The hostess, assisted by Mrs. Tillapaugh and Mrs. Whiteford, served chocolate and wafers.

Only Three Withdrawals.

The annual withdrawal period of the Dairymen's League Co-operative association, Inc., terminated February 28. The Schenevus branch, with an approximate membership of one hundred and fifty, has had three withdrawals, two active and one inactive. During the year the branch has gained just about as many as were lost during the preceding year.

Grangers to Receive Degrees.

Schenevus Valley grange will work the first and second degrees on a class of seven candidates Tuesday evening at their meeting at Odd Fellows' hall. On Tuesday, March 11, the Pomona grange session will be held in Schenevus, detailed notice of which will be given later.

Birth.

Born, to Mr. and Mrs. Walter Ingersoll, at their home in Vernon, February 28, a son, named Robert McNiel Ingersoll. Mrs. Ingersoll was formerly Miss Lillian Sibley of South Side.

Well-Patronized Supper.

The Epworth league-Queen Esther supper at the Methodist Episcopal church Friday evening was well patronized. A very satisfactory meal was served and the organizations realized between $30 and $35.

Civic Program at Woman's Club.

The regular meeting of the Woman's club will be held at the home of Mrs. R. V. Tillapaugh on Welton avenue Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock. A civics program, in charge of Mrs. Edward F. Theyson, will be given. Topic, "The Village."

Truth Seekers Meet.

The monthly business and social meeting of the Truth Seekers will be held Wednesday evening with Mrs. R. V. Tillapaugh.

Returns to Schenevus.

Mrs. Leta Briggs, who has been visiting friends and relatives in New York city and Oneonta since the early part of last November, returned to her home on upper Main street Friday evening. While in Oneonta, Mrs. Briggs was visiting her sister, Mrs. Lula Walker.

Mrs. A. A. Bernard Was Hostess.

Mrs. A. A. Bernard was hostess for the Friday evening bridge club at her home on Arch street. Prize winners were Mrs. Herbert Bernard, Mrs. James Fiery, Archie Bernard and James P. Friery. The next meeting of the club will be with Mrs. E. F. Theyson.

Jolly Sleigh Riders.

The Jolly Twelve bridge club enjoyed a free sleigh ride late Friday afternoon, later attending the supper at the Methodist Episcopal church. Mrs. Floyd G. Manzer entertained the club at cards at her home on Race street in the evening, serving dainty refreshments.

Floyd S. Lowell Seriously Ill.

Mrs. Homer Eckerson of Mechanicville was summoned here by the illness of her father, Floyd S. Lowell, and arrived on the sleeper Saturday night. Dr. Lowell B. Eckerson of Brooklyn, a grandson, arrived Sunday morning and is co-operating with the physician in charge, Dr. E. C. Winsor, to make the patient as comfortable as possible. Mr. Lowell had a slight shock Saturday afternoon and at his advanced age, 81 years old, his condition causes much anxiety to the family.

Entertains at Cards.

Mrs. Samuel C. Swackhamer entertained three tables at cards Saturday evening in honor of the Misses Ross and Breed of Cooperstown, who were week-end guests with Miss Leona Swackhamer. Delicious refreshments were served by the hostess and all spent a most enjoyable evening.

Personal Mention.

Ward McLoughlin of Harpursville and Seeley Stilson of Otego are now employed at Borden creamery.—Mrs. Tyler M. Chase was a recent guest of Mrs. Carl House in Oneonta.

LATE EDMESTON NEWS.

Woman's Club Discusses "Insurance" at Meeting Last Wednesday.

Edmeston, Mar. 2. — On last Wednesday afternoon a most interesting meeting of the Edmeston Woman's club was held at the home of Mrs. Claudine Davis. The topic under discussion was "Insurance," and the following papers proved very instructive on the subject: History of Insurance and the Functioning of the State Department of Insurance; Life Insurance, including companies, policies and payments; Fire Insurance, including rating, classification, association, laws and adjustments. Other phases of the subject will be discussed at the next meeting to be held on March 12.

Edmeston Folk Go to Sea.

On last Wednesday evening the people of Edmeston were treated to all the fun of a sea voyage without the sea sickness, as they listened to the unique program of the Marine Maids at the Opera house. This quartet of ladies, which was an extra number on the Entertainment course, brought to their dry land audience a replica of a maritime fete, their music, both instrumental and vocal, touching of national airs. Their stunts made it seem all the more genuine; and their hearers went home, feeling that they had spent a most delightful evening on board ship.

Joint Meeting Farm Societies

A joint meeting of the grange, Farm bureau, Home bureau, and Dairymen's league was held at the grange hall Tuesday evening, February 26. After a short session of community singing, conducted by S. D. Talbot, G. H. Ritter, who presided over the meeting, introduced Harlo P. Beals, county Farm bureau agent. Mr. Beals spoke briefly on points connected with the relationship of that organization to the farmer. Mr. Waters, representing the Dairymen's league, spoke in the interest of that organization; and Jared Van Wagenen gave a most helpful address on "Yardsticks of Civilization." The speeches were interspersed with music, delightfully rendered by home talent. At the close of the meeting a bountiful supper, prepared by the ladies of the organization, was served to about 150 persons.

Personals and Locals.

Owing to illness, C. E. Quackenbush has been absent from his duties at the First National bank for several days. —Mrs. Walter S. Gardner has been confined to the house by a severe attack of bronchitis during the past week.—Mrs. F. H. Gates spent the week-end with friends in Oneonta.—Mrs. G. L. Hotchkin of Mt. Upton was the guest of her sister, Miss Carrie Forrest, Wednesday.—Harold Burlison of Herkimer has been visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Burlison. —E. E. Brooks was in Utica Friday and Saturday attending a Delco convention.

MRS. A. B. DIXSON DIES IN OTEGO

Highly Respected Woman Dies Friday — Funeral Today.

Otego, March 2. — Mrs. Alfred B. Dixson, only child of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon L. Wood, died at the home of her parents on Friday evening, at about 11:15 o'clock. Mrs. Dixson suffered a severe attack of influenza about five weeks ago and being of an anemic tendency the ravages of the disease baffled all medical skill and treatment, and which terminated in her death. Mrs. Dixson was about twenty five years of age. She had qualified herself for teaching, and had taught school in several districts of the town during the past four years, with credit. She was married in November last to Alfred B. Dixson, and she and her husband had resided since with Mrs. Dixson's parents in town.

Mrs. Dixson was a young woman of exemplary character, a consistent member of the Methodist Episcopal church, ever active in all good works. She will be sadly missed in her home, in the church of her choice and by those with whom she has been intimately associated in life's higher activities.

The bereaved husband, father and mother, have the deepest sympathy of the community, and of their friends in this grievous affliction.

The funeral services will be held at the home of her parents on Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock; the Rev. Charles Volz, her late pastor officiating. The remains will be placed in the receiving vault in Evergreen cemetery for later interment.

"ROBIN HOOD" OF INDIA SHOT TO DEATH BY COPS

Leader in Many Daring Raids and Narrow Escapes at Last Falls During Fight.

Jumbalingam, a notorious bandit known for many years as the Robin Hood of India, has been shot dead with his lieutenant, Kasi, in an affray with the Tinnevelly police.

The death of this leader, marking the end of a long campaign on the part of the police, was the result of a sudden night raid. Constables surrounded the house in which Jumbalingam and other dacoits were sleeping. The inmates of the house made a spirited defense, killing the Indian police officer in charge of the party and wounding several others, but were soon overpowered by force of numbers and were shot down.

Operating in the hilly tract between the Tinnevelly district and Travancore state, Jumbalingam and his robber band became widely celebrated for their innumerable exploits and their sensational escapes from the police even after arrest.

The bandits made their home in almost inaccessible mountain places, and from these points of vantage made frequent raids into the plains. Disguised as holy men or innocent beggars, they frequented the country roads and relieved travelers of whatever valuables they possessed.

On one occasion when Jumbalingam and a number of his confederates were confined in the central jail at Palamcottah, he, by some means yet a mystery, obtained keys to all the cells where his men were confined and enabled the whole party to escape, unnoticed by any of the guards or warders set over them.

At another time the police captured the bandits by the aid of an ex-convict who, on promise of a reward, joined Jumbalingam's gang and, at a suitable opportunity, betrayed it to the police party. As Jumbalingam and his fellows were being led to jail, in charge of an armed guard, they succeeded not only in escaping but in stripping the guards of their uniforms and taking their carbines and ammunition.

Jumbalingam perpetrated many of his recent robberies by personating a police officer charged with the special duty of capturing him. A heavy price had been offered for his head for several years.

D'Annunzio Burns His Medals on Altar to Hero

Brescia, Italy.—Gabriele d'Annunzio refused a silver medal for military valor recently conferred on him by the ministry of war, to replace one of bronze. In rejecting the bestowal the poet-soldier declares he has burned all his decorations, of which he received 16 for bravery, including the highest gold medal award of the Italian army, on an altar erected at his villa.

The altar is made of rock hewn out of Monte Grappa, where one of the fiercest battles between the Austrian and Italian armies in the late war took place. Underneath the altar reposes the body of d'Annunzio's own unknown soldier, and he offers sacrifices by burning laurel leaves.

He announced he would not receive any person who intended to present medals, crosses or diplomas.

Post Office to Show Dead Letters to Public

Washington.—Dead letters will be placed in a special exhibit by Postmaster Mooney at the main city post office to give permanent warning to Washingtonians always to address their letters correctly.

Every day the local post office receives scores of letters so poorly addressed that it is impossible for the carriers to deliver them.

A little more care on the part of the average sender of such inadequately-addressed letters would obviate the trouble, it is believed, and reduce the number of letters from this city which must go to the dead letter office every year.

IN MATTER OF DISAGREEMENT

It is a rule of law, at least in most states and instances, that when a jury disagrees there is no verdict, and the case must be tried over again; and this applies even if the voice of the jury is as eleven to one.

In the case of such trial by jury, the men sitting in judgment are not supposed to be individuals with special attainments for the work. They are just ordinary individuals, though as result of close questioning, well-selected and capable of giving just decision without bias; but it is not expected that they have any outstanding qualifications for the task which under the law they must undertake.

But, after these twelve men have rendered a verdict and appeal has eventually been taken to the general term or in New York to the court of appeals, it takes only a majority of the judges sitting in the higher or highest court to affirm the judgment: even though each one of these trained jurists is by training and experience and unquestionably better able to render just judgment than is a man sitting on a trial jury.

There have been just such cases as this in the supreme court of the United States, and nobody was satisfied. There have been such also in the state court of appeals; and to the objection in such cases raised that the judges deal more specifically with points of law and not facts in evidence, it can be replied that one has as much as the other to do with the case if the purpose of law be, as it unquestionably is, to deal justly. By a great many it is believed that either a unanimous verdict alike by juries and judges be necessary, or else that a majority or two-thirds vote should in each case carry; and a great many think that the latter would be the better way.

DAUGHERTY

There is no question whatever that on account of the present turmoil at Washington, Attorney General Daugherty should quit. There was surprise at his appointment by President Harding at the outset, and the general explanation was that it was on the basis of personal friendship. That he has in a general way done fairly well in the office will be conceded, and the matter that he owned a few shares of Sinclair Oil stock at one time would [illegible] occasion for great criticism. His known friendships, however, were another matter, and so was his determination to remain in the cabinet after what was practically a vote of lack of confidence had been cast by the president and congress when the investigation had been taken out of his hands and put in those of special counsel. Under these circumstances his refusal to resign was surprising, particularly as he is a hold-over member of the Harding cabinet, kept by courtesy of President Coolidge, and unquestionably not the man whom he would have been likely in the first instance to select.

There is quite general belief that the apparent disinclination of Daugherty to relieve President Coolidge from embarrassment by resigning is evidence enough that he is not the man for the place, whether he is guilty or not of any malfeasance in office. If gentler methods in way of suggestion do not work, then there is always possibility of resort to impeachment.

Canst thou by searching find out God? Canst thou find out the Almighty unto perfection?—Job. 11:7.

AVOID TOO MANY VARIETIES

That Is One Warning Given Commercial Apple Growers by State College Fruit Men — Greening Has Following.

Ithaca, March 2.—What varieties shall I plant?

This is a question which the man who considers setting out a commercial apple orchard is likely to ask first of all, the state college here reports.

While no single reply to this question will answer all inquiries, some general statements may safely be made. One is that too many varieties should not be grown. On the other hand, the orchardist will want more than one or two varieties, not only to [illegible] the business [illegible], but also to provide cross pollination.

Perhaps the one most satisfactory commercial apple for Western New York is the Rhode Island Greening. It might well compose a large percentage of new plantings on the heavier types of soil; it is not well adapted to a light, sandy soil. The Greening is the one green apple for which there is steady demand throughout its whole season. The market knows and wants a Greening for cooking purposes, and there are few apples superior to it for this. The territory in which the Greening can be produced is restricted.

While the Baldwin has some faults, there is no other variety that will adequately take its place in the New York orchard. It is the standard red winter apple of the east, and is adapted to all sections of the state except the colder parts. If it were not for the tenderness of the tree to cold, and the susceptibility of the fruit to bitter pit, the Baldwin would be more widely planted. As it is, the Baldwin is not represented in the younger plantings as it was in the older orchards.

The McIntosh has made very rapid headway with New York growers. So far as vigor, hardiness, strength of wood, habit of growth, and productiveness of tree are concerned, it is declared to leave little to be desired. The fruit is of the highest quality. The variety is extremely susceptible to apple scab, however, and the fruit is tender and quite perishable. It is not a variety suited to average planting. The man who plants the McIntosh must take exceptional care in growing and packing the fruit.

Rural Churches Progressing.

The Rev. A. M. Forrester of Binghamton, pastor-at-large over scores of churches in the presbyteries of Binghamton, Chemung and Oneonta, covering a large section of the Southern Tier, believes that rural churches of all denominations are slowly undergoing a radical readjustment, certain to place them upon a firmer and higher plane in the days to come. "Some preaching points are being dropped or wiped out," he says, "others are being amalgamated, and the whole tendency is to raise the salary of country preachers, thereby bringing into activity in small communities where the new blood will be most appreciably felt, a higher grade and better educated class of ministers. I feel these changes are general throughout all the denominations."

That Body of Yours

By James W. Barton, M.D.

RAW FOODS.

The argument is often advanced that raw foods, the natural food of man, should be eaten in their natural state, and not spoiled by cooking.

It is further argued that man is the same in body as he was in prehistoric times, and early man ate raw foods.

Further, that man's long intestine shows that he was meant to eat raw, rough foods, and so plenty of length of intestine gives plenty of time for the digestion of these raw foods.

Now, what about it?

All this is undoubtedly true.

You have the same body as the man of thousands of years ago. The same teeth, stomach, intestine, and so forth.

Then why do we cook food?

Simply because although you have [illegible] same kind of life.

Our early man lived an outdoor life. He hunted, and later tilled, but always the outdoors.

He had the greatest asset of all time, a real, healthy hunger—appetite for food. And when he sunk his teeth—real teeth—into raw foods he ground them up—broke down the hard fibres of the meats and vegetables, which mixed them up with the saliva, and softened them for stomach digestion.

His stomach juices were just as hungry as his mouth juices, and they by means of strong stomach muscles were well mixed up with the food. It was thus ready for the real digestion in the small intestine.

What about you?

You don't live this outdoor life. You sometimes have a good appetite, but not always. The food that was [illegible] in front of early man would [illegible] your appetite.

And so your food is cooked for you to make it attractive and appetizing. The [illegible] its appearance, the [illegible] everything else connected with [illegible] stimulate your appetite [illegible] you are encouraged to eat. [illegible] to eat too much frequently.

[illegible] in the food that [illegible] more digestible [illegible] need this for the [illegible].

But you need it because your hunger, your teeth, your digestive [illegible] strong as [illegible].

[illegible] softens the meat so that it is easier to chew, and juices go to the food more readily.

SUES FOX CORPORATION

Gilbertsville Man Tries To Have Annulled Contract for Purchase of Stock of Hiawatha Silver Black Fox Corporation.

Binghamton, March 2. — Difficulties of the Hiawatha Silver Black Fox corporation were aired in supreme court Friday in a civil suit brought by Henry F. White of Gilbertsville, one of the stockholders against the corporation asking for an injunction against the corporation restraining it from disposing of Dodge automobile stock turned over for the purchase of fox stock and also asking for the rescinding of a contract in which Mr. White is alleged to have purchased 320 shares of Preferred stock and 640 shares of common stock in the corporation. Mr. White alleges that the Dodge stock was valued at $6,000 and was turned over as 50 per cent payment of the fox stock purchased.

The case was on trial this morning before Supreme Court Justice Leon C. Rhodes. Roy C. McHenry and Douglas V. Ashley appeared for the plaintiff and Mangan & Mangan for the defendant concern. [illegible] Lyons appeared as trustee of the Dodge stock, pending the disposition of the case in supreme court.

According to the allegations of Mr. White, on April 18, 1923, the defendant corporation offered to exchange with him 80 units of capital stock consisting of 320 shares of preferred stock and 640 shares of common stock for 60 shares of preferred stock of the Dodge Manufacturing Co. and Mr. White's note for $6,000.

Mr. White who was the first witness called testified that the Dodge stock was worth $6,000 and that at the time the corporation offered to make the exchange fraud was used in representing conditions. He said that an agent of the company represented to him that the capital stock of the corporation was worth about $22.50 a share and also that the Morgan Landers &Co. of New York would purchase all shares of stock at the rate of $17.50 a share after June 15, 1923.

Alumni Luncheon at Binghamton.

The annual luncheon at the Oneonta Normal Alumni association in Binghamton was held last Saturday afternoon at the Hotel Bennett. Eighty-two were present. Superintendent and Mrs. Kelley were the guests of honor. Five members of the Normal faculty were in attendance: Miss Alden, Miss Matteson, Miss Scott, Professor Curtis, and Doctor Schumacher.

The occasion was a very happy one, and all enjoyed the hours spent in memories of Alma Mater. After the luncheon proper, short talks were given by Miss Matteson, Professor Curtis, Superintendent Kelly and Doctor Schumacher. In addition, there were several songs of local color, a whistling solo by Miss Newcome of [illegible] Hale.

The president of the association, Miss Plunkett, was instructed to send a telegram to Doctor Bugbee to express the regret of all present that he was unable to be there in person to speak for Alma Mater. No O. N. S. reunion is complete without his presence.

This reunion marked the twenty-[illegible] year of the association. Plans were begun to observe suitably the twenty-fifth anniversary next year.

Fiery Cross at Cooperstown.

Cooperstown, Mar. 2—(Special).—A fiery cross was burned in Cooperstown at 8:45 o'clock Sunday evening at the upper end of Main street. The cross measured about 20 by 12 feet in size. It was the first burned in the village and created much excitement, about 200 people rushing to the spot as soon as the outlines of the cross were seen. A villager living near the spot declared that he observed about 15 men mounted on horses and wearing white robes near the spot where later the cross was seen, but his contention is not taken seriously by many.

WILBER ESTATE PAYMENTS

Beneficiaries Under Will of Late George I. Wilber Being Paid Now Under Decree of Surrogate S. H. Close.

Beneficiaries under the will of the late George I. Wilber are being paid their legacies in accordance with the decree rendered a month since by Surrogate S. H. Close, in which he held that the 64th clause, deferring payments for a five-year period, to be invalid and directing that its provisions be ignored in administrating the estate.

The trust officers of the bank have been busily engaged since the decree was entered in preparing to make payments to all named in the will on March 1 and numerous individuals have received their cash payments or their stocks as directed under the ruling of the court.

The First Methodist church received perhaps the largest single payment of cash, the legacy to that institution being $100,000, which will bring the building fund for the new church edifice up to $125,502.75.

Payments to all are made on the basis of income since the death of Mr. Wilber, with interest added since the moneys were received by the executor, less of course the transfer tax as appraised by the proper authorities. The total tax was paid by the executor soon after being levied to avoid any additional rate thereon. The total amount paid on account of this tax was $157,720.32.

There are in the city a considerable number of additional stockholders of the Wilber bank as a result of the action of the executors and while a large part of the estate is held in trust for the benefit of beneficiaries there will be a considerable sum of money in the aggregate distributed to individuals and organizations.

The action is taken now because the specified time has elapsed in which an appeal from the decree made by Surrogate Close should have been commenced.

LIGHT WITH WILD FLOWERS

Dean Hoxsey House Delights Good-Sized Audience Saturday Evening at Woman's Club.

A very instructive address was given Saturday evening under the auspices of the Burroughs club by Dr. Homer D. House, state botanist, at the Woman's club auditorium in this city. There was a good attendance, including many members of the above named clubs and a few guests, and from beginning to end a very interested audience listened with genuine appreciation to the speaker, whose theme was "An Evening with the Wild Flowers."

Dr. House, who was pleasantly introduced by Miss Caroline Jenkins of the Normal faculty, first exhibited a map showing the several flower-zone regions of the state, which are determined largely by elevation, location and meteorological conditions and followed with a description of the flowers themselves, which were presented on the screen by means of pictures exceptionally perfect in color and detail.

In connection with his address Dr. House made a special plea for some of the more beautiful of the wild flowers, which like not a few varieties of the native birds of the state, are threatened with destruction. Reference was in particular made to the trailing arbutus, that shy but fragrant blossom of the spring, which is now practically extinct in some localities where ruthless hands have not only plucked the blossoms but have wantonly uprooted the vine itself; to the laurel and azaleas of which armfuls of the branches are carried away, and the lady slipper, on which is laid hands not less wanton.

At the close of the address an informal reception was held at which many members of the club had opportunity personally to greet the speaker of the evening.

The Burroughs club desires especially to express its gratitude to Secretary Lange of the Y. M. C. A. who loaned the apparatus for exhibition of the pictures, and to Miss Ada K. Smith, by whom it was operated.

During his sojourn in Oneonta Dr. House was a guest at the home of Mrs. M. L. Mills, 14 Myrtle avenue.

WILL THEY RING FOR YOU?

Chimes of Normandy To Be Presented at Elks' Home This and Tomorrow Evening by Elks' Glee Club Comic Opera Company.

The claim that the Chimes of Normandy, to be presented in the Elks' home auditorium this evening by the Elks' Glee Club Comic Opera company, will be the biggest and best amateur production ever staged in Oneonta may seem extravagant, for Oneontans have witnessed many an excellent home talent production in the past, but it is not believed that the assertion will be denied by any who attend.

To begin with, the opera is one that has delighted music lovers for many years, combining an appealing plot with plenty of tuneful numbers and presenting many opportunities for acting of the highest order. In the second place, the cast and chorus selected is one of exceptional talent and contains many really unusual voices. And then the costumes are [illegible]ally correct and very attractive and the scenery, painted by Lou Sherwood especially for this production, is as good as can be seen on any metropolitan stage. The lighting effects complete the picture. H. W. Fluhrer, who has been responsible for many unusual electrical displays at the Elks' home, in the past, has outdone himself this time and the use of lights in this production demonstrates just how effective proper illumination can be made.

The company held its last dress rehearsal yesterday afternoon with the special "hand picked" orchestra and Director James Keeton, Jr., spent five hours with the men and women, polishing off the rough spots and shaking the production down into a place of near perfection. Those who witnessed the rehearsal will tell you that Oneontans have an unusual treat in store for them this and tomorrow evening.

LORD LEADS IN WORLD CRISIS

Bishop Berry of Philadelphia Occupies Pulpit of First Methodist Church — Two Excellent Sermons Given.

Bishop Joseph F. Berry, D. D., LL.D. of Philadelphia, the presiding bishop of the Wyoming conference, occupied the pulpit of the First Methodist church yesterday morning and evening, being greeted by large congregations, all enjoying both sermons and finding that he has lost none of keeness of thought or vigor of expression with the advacing years.

In opening the morning discourse, Bishop Berry alluded to the fact that he was in Oneonta to deliver his 12th and 13th sermons here, while it would require 11 years for him to preach even once in all the churches in his territory, evidence he suggested of his feeling toward the local church.

The text of the morning was from 2nd Samuel, 5:24; "And let it be, when thou hearest the sound of a going in the tops of mulberry trees, that then thou shalt bestir thyself; for then shall the Lord go out before thee, to smite the hosts of the Philistines."

The speaker dwelt upon the help of the Lord in all crises and his method of signalling the time to strike against iniquity, tracing it through biblical history down to the present moment. Referring to prohibition and the enforcement of the Volstead act, Bishop Berry commended the efforts and the success attained, especially when one considers that the things taken away have been legalized since the founding of the republic. He asserted that no citizen can lay claim to be patriotic who defies openly or otherwise any of the laws of the land and declared that America will reap a whirlwind unless we manifest wholesome respect for law, whether it meets with our individual opinion or not.

Speaking of war the learned bishop referred to it as "jungle law," "A state of mind," and "brute force released." He suggested that isolation might have been advisable in the early days, but now it is small and selfish and fundamentally wrong and we must recognise our obligations to the world and comprehend an alliance as a moral force rather perhaps than a union of resources and material strength.

He further alluded only briefly to the controvery between the modernists and the fundamentalists, saying that it evidently interests but few and that the chief concern of the great bulk of Christianity is to follow the teachings and secure the acceptance of the Man of Galilee. He found encouragement in the discussion, however, expressing a firm conviction that the more men study Christ, the more will his followers be. In closing Bishop Berry appealed for prayer, declaring that its power is coming more and more to be appreciated and its uplift felt.

At the evening service Bishop Berry took for his text the words, "For What is Your Life?" delivering a sermon of power and inspiration upon the dignity and grandeur of life, and an opportunity for service to God and man.

Bishop Berry was a guest while in the city of Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Rowe.

GEORGE BARSTOW IN TOILS

Well Known Local Man Arrested Last Evening for Violation of Volstead Act.

George Barstow, a well-known local man, will be arraigned this morning before United States Commissioner Arthur Seybolt on a charge of illegal sale and possession of liquor as a result of his arrest last evening by Officer Otto, after he had accepted, it is claimed, marked bills in payment for a quantity of alleged whiskey.

Chief Horton had suspected for some time that Barstow was a "rum runner" but had been unable heretofore to catch him at work. Last evening the chief gave a man four marked one dollar bills and told him to try to procure liquor from Barstow. The man made a deal with Barstow, it is claimed, and early in the evening procured a half pint bottle of supposed whiskey from him, the alleged transfer taking place in front of a Main street restaurant. It was agreed that Barstow should procure another half pint and meet the man at a later hour on the coal scales on Broad street of Harry Butts.

Barstow was about to pass the bottle to the man when Officer Otto appeared, seemingly from nowhere and placed him under arrest. Barstow was able to throw the bottle away, however. Otto led his man to the street, where Barstow attempted to sting the officer. The fight that ensued lasted but a moment. Otto directed a stunning blow to Barstow's nose and the latter stopped fighting and devoted himself to the [illegible] of stopping up the blood.

When searched at headquarters the two marked bills were found in Barstow's pocket. The bills and the half pint of fluid purchased therewith are being carefully guarded as very important bits of evidence. Barstow was unable to secure bail and spent the night in the city jail.

When an article is used by [illegible] who consider nothing but quality and also by those where first consideration is economy, it must have some exceptional preparation. advt 6t.

FOR THE CHAMPIONSHIP

Oneonta High School Basketeers to Contend Against Cobleskill High School at Cooperstown on Tuesday Night.

Fresh from their spectacular defeat of the Cobleskill Aggies Saturday evening, the Oneonta High school basketball team will tackle an even harder foe in the Cooperstown town hall on Tuesday evening when Cobleskill High school will be played for the championship of the Tri-County league. The team feels that the success or failure of the season depends upon the outcome of this battle and will bend every effort to annex victory.

Oneonta's chances in the game are problematical. Cobleskill overwhelmingly defeated the local team when they last met at Cobleskill but Oneonta has been going fine since that time and is now in much better condition for a gruelling battle. When Cobleskill High and the Aggies met recently, the High school was forced to earn a two point victory in an extra period. Oneonta decisively whipped the Aggies Saturday night and hence would appear to have the edge over C. H. S.

The basketball court in the Cooperstown town hall is small and has other disadvantages but conditions will be as fair for one side as for the other. A neutral court was required for the playoff of the league championship and Cooperstown was selected because of its central location.

Local students have been worked up to a high pitch of excitement over the game and they will be present at Cooperstown in large numbers to give the Yellow and White squad the benefit of their support. Doubtless there will also be present a large delegation from Cobleskill.

WOMAN ENDEARED TO MANY

DEMISE OF MRS. HARRY G. VAN DEUSEN AFTER MONTHS OF SUFFERING

Obsequies to be Held Tuesday Afternoon at 2:30 O'clock from the Family Residence with Her Pastor, Rev. E. J. Farley, Officiating—Interment Later in Lakewood Cemetery, Cooperstown, Near Her Birthplace.

In the death of Mrs. Harry G. VanDeusen, occurring at the family residence, 15 Watkins avenue, at 10 o'clock Saturday evening, after a long illness and a heroic struggle, not only are the husband and three young children bereft of a loving wife and devoted mother, but the community loses a woman of many endearing traits, whose early demise arouses the tenderest emotions of all friends of the family and the deepest sympathy of all.

Mrs. VanDeusen had been in failing health for six months or more and on January 1 last underwent an operation at the [illegible] hospital, hoping to secure relief from a serious ailment. Her plucky spirit was unable to overcome her depleted vitality and she failed steadily until the end, the last three weeks being passed at her home surrounded by her loved ones, receiving every attention from them and the best nursing.

The obsequies will be held Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Her pastor, Rev. Dr. Edson J. Farley of the First Baptist church, will officiate and the body will be placed in the family vault at Glenwood and later interred in the Van Deusen family plot in Lakewood cemetery at Cooperstown.

Harriet Murdock Fuller was born at Cooperstown, March 21, 1887, and after graduating from the High school there, she took a special course of two years at Syracuse university, her fine voice winning many honors at both institutions. On June 26th, 1912, she united in marriage with Harry G. Van Deusen, then principal of the High school at Sayre, Pa., but formerly of Cooperstown. They resided for six years at Sayre and then removed to Oneonta, he having been elected principal of the Oneonta High school, since which time this city has been her home. She was the daughter of Mrs. Eva S. and the late W. P. K. Fuller, the mother having been with her during her recent critical illness.

Surviving her are the husband, two sons, Preston, aged 10½ years, and Roland, aged 1½ years; one daughter, Evelyn, aged 5½ years; her mother, Mrs. Eva S. Fuller, of Cooperstown; and one brother, Fred P. Fuller, long in the employ of the Clark estates at Cooperstown, but temporarily in Florida.

Mrs. Van Deusen was a member of the First Baptist church of this city, having been an adherent of that faith for years, formerly at Cooperstown and later at Sayre. While household duties have prevented her activity in musical circles since her coming here, she was prominent at Cooperstown, where she sang in the church choir for years and where her fine voice was frequently heard in concerts and recitals. She also was an accomplished pianist.

Unmindful of self, her every thought was of others. For her loved ones she labored with untiring zeal, to the very last her mind being centered on the happiness and comfort of her family and zealous lest her mother overdo in caring for her. One who knew her intimately said last evening that "her mind never harbored an evil thought nor her heart consider a wrong deed."

WELL KNOWN U. & D. ENGINEER

Henry N. Kopf of 2 Rose Avenue Succumbs to Rheumatism Followed by Heart Trouble —Funeral on Wednesday Afternoon With Burial at Glenwood.

Henry N. Kopf, for some 20 years an employe of the U. & D. railroad company and for 15 years a resident of this city, passed away at his home, 2 Rose avenue, Saturday night about midnight, aged 45 years. The funeral services are to be held from the family home on Wednesday at 2 p. m. Rev. Dr. Edson J. Farley of the First Baptist church, the family pastor, will officiate, and the body will be placed in the vault at Glenwood cemetery for later interment in that cemetery.

Mr. Kopf was born in Germany, the son of Harry and Rebecca Kopf, who later removed to Brooklyn, where they still reside. For a time the subject of this sketch continued to reside there, but about 20 years ago he removed to Arkville and entered the employ of the U. & D. railroad, later being advanced to the position of engineer which he held for some 15 years.

The deceased was united in marriage with Maud Simmons of Ulster county 19 years ago and she, with six children, Reuben, aged 15 years; Arnold, 11; Herman, 10; Gladys, 6; Minnie, 4, and Henry, Jr., of 18 months, survive him. Mr. Kopf leaves also his parents, named above, and the following brothers and sisters: Mrs. Ernest Helberg, Mrs. Bertha Freisman, Mrs. Minnie Meyer, Mrs. Martha Dischelly and Ernest Kopf, all of Brooklyn, and William Kopf of Wisconsin.

Mr. Kopf was a member of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen and of Oneonta lodge, No. 466, F. & A. M., and a supporter of the First Baptist church. It is expected that he will be buried with Masonic honors, he being popular and esteemed among both the fraternity and the employes of the U. D. company.

ANDREW SPENCER

Funeral of Esteemed Milford Resident Will Be Held From Late Home Monday at 2 P. M.

Milford, Mar. 2. — Andrew Spencer, brief notice of whose death appeared in The Star of Saturday, was born at Milford in 1863, the son of Andrew and Minerva (Cronkite) Spencer. He received his preliminary education at Hartwick Seminary and following his graduation from that institution successfully completed courses at Cornell university and the Albany Law school.

Mr. Spencer practiced law in Milford for nine years, giving up his practice in 1907 to accept a position as examiner of municipal accounts under the state comptroller. At the time of his death he was the oldest man in the service of this department. For several years he was clerk of the Otsego County Board of Supervisors.

The deceased was united in marriage on December 25, 1884, to Minerva E. Bowe, who survives him, together with three daughters, Mrs. E. L. Morecraft of Syracuse and the Misses Vinyla and Genevieve Spencer, residing at home. To them in their great bereavement the sincere sympathy of many will be extended.

Mr. Spencer was a member of Otsego lodge, F. & A. M. of Cooperstown and of the Methodist Episcopal church at Milford. He had always regarded Milford as his home and had spent most of his summer vacations in the village. He was a man widely known throughout Otsego county and all who knew him respected him highly for his many admirable traits of character.

Death, which occurred at Mineola, L. I., resulted from acute dilation of the heart. He had been ill but two days.

The funeral services will be held on Monday at 2 p. m. from the home with Rev. N. R. Ripley officiating, assisted by Rev. H. E. Brooks. Burial will be made in the family plot in the Milford cemetery.

W. R. C. To Attend Funeral.

Members of the Woman's Relief corps are requested to meet at the trolley station at 1:15 p. m. on Tuesday to attend the funeral of the late Riley I. Westcott. Members please wear badges.

Of course, you know that Baker's extracts were pure before pure food laws were made. Your grocer sells them. advt 6t.

Prayer service was held at the Whitcomb home Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock, conducted by Rev. Dr. Edson J. Farley of the First Baptist church and the body will be taken today to Syracuse, leaving at 7:50 a. m. There will be a service at the chapel at Oakwood cemetery on the arrival of the party and interment will be made by the side of her late husband in the cemetery there.

Born at Watertown, the daughter of the late John E. Dodge, she later resided in Syracuse and in New York city. She was married when about 20 years of age to Edwin W. Thurston, who traveled from New York city and frequently visited Oneonta. Mr. Thurston passed away about 20 years ago, and since his demise she had spent some time with a son in Denver, Col., and for about 12 years of the period named had made her home with the sister here. She returned here last fall and she has been declining since her coming.

Mrs. Thurston is survived by the sister named and by two sons, Harry D. Thurston, of Denver, Col., and Edwin E. Thurston, of Constantia, this state. The deceased was a woman of Christian faith and a former member of the Presbyterian church, but during her residence here had many friends in the First Baptist church and by all who knew her was esteemed highly.

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT

Congregation of First Presbyterian Church Pays Unanimous Tribute to Albert B. Tobey.

In connection with the Sunday morning services at the First Presbyterian church the following tribute of respect to the memory of the late Albert B Tobey was presented and by a rising vote of the congregation was unanimously adopted.

Whereas, our brother, Albert B. Tobey, who has so recently departed this world, was a member of this church for an unbroken period of fifty-seven years, during which time he acceptably served in various official capacities, and especially as ruling elder, which position he held from 1876 until at his own urgent request six years ago he resigned from the active work of the session; and

Whereas, he manifested so deep an interest in the work of the church at home and abroad and gave it his whole-hearted and enthusiastic support with his means and his self-sacrificing labors; and

Whereas, we feel under a deep sense of obligation for his untiring efforts in behalf of the welfare of this church through so many years, and through so many critical periods of its history; and

Whereas, by precept and example he showed himself a worthy leader in all the activities of the church and has stamped the influence of his forceful and upright personality upon the whole community.

Therefore, Be It Resolved that we express to his bereaved widow and family our sincere appreciation of his long and faithful labors among us, and assure them that we share in common with them their great loss. And further

Resolved, that our heartfelt sympathy goes out to them in their sore affliction, and that we commend them to our Divine Lord and Master, who carries our griefs and shares our sorrows, and who will as we trust and firmly believe, bring us all into the general assembly and church of the first-born, who are in heaven. And further

Resolved that we send a copy of these resolutions to the family of the deceased with our most sincere and affectionate regard.

In behalf of the congregation.
J. C. Russell, pastor.
B. C. Lauren, clerk.

AFTER ONE WEEK'S ILLNESS

Riley I. Westcott Dies Saturday Morning—Nine Years Resident of Oneonta.

Many friends in Oneonta and elsewhere will learn with deep regret of the death of Riley I. Westcott, which occurred at 5:30 o'clock Saturday morning at his home, 7 Ceperley avenue. His illness, which was of heart trouble, was of only one week's duration, and many friends in this city were unaware of his serious illness.

The funeral services will be held Tuesday at 2 p. m. at his late home, Rev. J. A. Judge of the Chapin Memorial church will officiate and the services will be in charge of the Oneonta Masonic lodge. Following the services, the body will be placed in the Plains mausoleum for later interment.

Mr. Westcott was born in [illegible], Pa., June 23, 1871, and was a son of T. S. and Amanda Westcott. He was by occupation a carpenter, and before coming nine years ago to Oneonta resided at Harford and at Susquehanna, Pa. Since July last he had been employed by B. C. Packer on Broad street. He was a member of the Universalist church, of the Oneonta Maccabees and of the Oneonta Masonic lodge. A man of many fine qualities of mind and heart, an upright and industrious man, he had numerous friends whose sympathy will be extended to the immediate family.

The deceased is survived by his wife, formerly Miss Laura Tiffany, to whom he was married at Binghamton October 15, 1889, by his parents above named, by three sisters, Mrs. Belcher and Mrs. Earl Coon of Binghamton and Mrs. Edward Allen of Harford, Pa., and by two brothers, Guerdon Westcott of Welch Hill, Pa., and Ray Westcott, who resides in California. G. W. B. Tiffany of Binghamton is a brother-in-law and there are several nieces and nephews.

FORMERLY OF DAVENPORT

George T. Rathbun, a native and for many years a resident of the town of Davenport, died Saturday morning at 7:50 o'clock at the home of his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Harry A. Howard, 13 Kearney street, this city. Mr. Rathbun had for five years been a sufferer from chronic Bright's disease, but his critical illness was of only short duration.

Prayer services will be held at the house at 1 p. m. on Tuesday, and the funeral will be at 2:30 at the Methodist Episcopal church at West Davenport, with interment in the cemetery at that place. Rev. G. W. Thompson of Davenport Center will officiate.

Mr. Rathbun was born in Davenport 61 years ago and was a son of Corbett and Lydia (Goodrich) Rathbun of that township. He was by occupation a farmer and had resided in his native town until about five years ago, when on account of failing health he came to the home of his daughter, where he had since resided. His wife, who was Mary Cornell of Davenport, died April 9, 1919. He was a member of the Elk's club of Oneonta, and was a much respected man with many friends alike in his native town and in Oneonta, who will regret his demise, and will extend their sympathy to the bereaved family.

In addition to the daughter above named, the deceased is survived by four sons, Clarence I. Rathbun of Bridgeport, Conn., L. G. Rathbun of Los Angeles, Cal., Lewis Rathbun of East Meredith and Oscar Rathbun of Englewood, N. J., also by nine grandchildren.

Buick Character Makes Buick Value

Buick value is something more than appears on the surface. It is more than the excellence and beauty of Buick design—more than the greater riding comfort, power and safety that Buick provides. Buick's value comes from the sum total of all those Buick qualities and traditions which together make up Buick character. A Buick owner fully appreciates Buick character. He knows the dependable, satisfying and trouble-free transportation which Buick gives, however long or however far a Buick owner may elect to drive his car.

STOCKS AND BONDS STAND UNCHANGED

Little Alteration in Week, With Stocks Developing Considerable Irregularity at Times

New York, Mar. 2. — Stock and bond prices ended the week at approximately the same levels as prevailed a week ago. Stocks developed considerable irregularity at times, due, traders stated, to minor industrial disturbances, uncertainty over congressional action on tax reduction plans and further disclosures in the senate oil committee inquiry.

Statements showing the railroads had maintained a large volume of tonnage and relatively favorable reports from business generally, were accepted by speculators as constructive factors.

Big War Harbor at Dover to Be Used for Commerce

Dover.—Constructed at a cost of $25,000,000 between 1901 and 1909, the Admiralty harbor, which played such a conspicuous part during the war as the headquarters of the Dover patrol, has been handed over to the Dover harbor board for commercial purposes.

The harbor, which incloses 610 acres of water, housed the fleet of destroyers and cruisers which convoyed troops and munitions across to France between 1914 and 1918.

Lesson in Profanity.

"Where's Jimmy?" asked the head of the house, coming home from work.

"He was very naughty," replied his wife. "I sent him to bed for swearing."

"Swearing?" roared the indignant father. "I'll teach him to swear!" and he rushed upstairs. On his way he fell over a chair and for some minutes his voice resounded through the house. Then Jimmy's mother called:

"John, dear, I'm sure Jimmy has heard enough for the first lesson."—Progressive Grocer.

ON BEING A COUNTRY JOURNALIST

The University of Missouri recently discussed journalism as a career for women. Active newspaper women told what they knew. Of city work—of necessity—an employee of a big paper spoke. Country journalism held the top of the ladder with an owner and publisher, Mrs. Anna Ewing—better known as Mrs. W. E.—of the Odessa (Mo.) Ledger. She is no grind, with her head buried in her inky presses. She has "interesting side-line occupations, as housekeeper and mother." She enjoys the distinction, among others, of being state chairman of the Democratic women of Missouri. And as for her job, here's part of her address to the university:

"I am speaking of country journalism—country country, where people arise when the lark is a-wing; where we eat our dinners, boiled dinners largely, in the middle of the day; where the prices of poultry, butter-fat, corn, hogs and hides are vital statistics; where the highest minded, tenderest hearted, most sympathetic, most helpful, most lovable people most do congregate.

"And the woman's field in this journalism? It is as some one aptly said of her sphere, it has no limit. In this woman's field there is no such phrase as 'I don't know.' You can't say that; it isn't done.

"I am not touching on the financial question; my method is stamped on most of our coins, and my success is always in the forefront of my mind when I sing the doxology. Nor am I going to say much on the subject of news. When your field is a small country community where everybody knows everybody else, often to the third and fourth generations—all their uprisings and downsittings, as it were—you get to feel as if it were all a part of yourself. Every time you write an item you think who will enjoy it. I know a world-renowned journalist said: 'What God has allowed to happen, I am not ashamed to publish.' Neither am I—if it happened in New Hampshire or California. But when fathers have talked heart-to-heart to you about their hopes, their fears, their disappointments for their children; when women have confided in you; when lovers have come to you for advice and comfort; when people have laid their hands on your shoulders and said 'Will you pray for me?' Oh I tell you news has a new meaning. So has life!

"To me the thing that peculiarly differentiates the woman's field is the matter of service. Why, truly, there is not a life or death or birth, or anything a penny's weight of worth, but what a newspaper woman is in it. To be a newspaper woman takes a vast amount of courage, love, tact, bluff, a [illegible] sense of humor, and an unshakable faith in prayer."

SHE SAT UP FOR HOURS AT NIGHT

"I had been failing in health the past few years," writes Mrs. L. H. Meyer, seventy-six, 132 Wall Street, Bethlehem, Pa. "I had always been a strong and a hard worker, but the death of my husband and other worries led to a general breakdown.

"My stomach failed me and I began to be in great distress. I had gas and bloating, had no appetite and lost all my strength and ambition. I couldn't sleep nights. I often had to get up and go down stairs and sit in a chair for hours alone during the night.

"I took Munyon's Paw Paw Tonic and in three days I began to feel better. Now, after three weeks, I feel fine and can't say too much in praise of Paw Paw."

Try this wonderful tonic yourself. It costs only $1 a bottle at any modern drug store. "There's a Munyon Pill for Every Ill." Munyon's, Scranton, Pa.

MEMORIAL FOR WILSON

How Capital of Czecho-Slovakia Mantled Itself in Black for War President of United States.

A letter recently received by Dr. and Mrs. A. H. Brownell from their daughter, Elizabeth, now American student at the great university at Prague, contains the following paragraphs concerning the tribute of the Czecho-Slovakian republic to the late President Woodrow Wilson which cannot fail to interest all Star readers:

Dear Father and Mother: This has been for Prague a week of black draperies and flags, and service of memorial for Wilson. As soon as word came of Wilson's death all the public buildings in the city and many others as well hung out long black streamers, all the newspapers had articles about Wilson and plans were made for a memorial service. Most of the schools had special services, with speeches, etc. We Americans were pestered with the question, "How is it possible that in America the people did not like Wilson?" No explanations seemed to satisfy. At eleven o'clock on Sunday morning there was a great and impressive meeting in the Community building, to which only officials of the government, embassies, and consulates were invited. All Americans of course were able to get tickets. I was the more anxious to go that I might see President Masaryk. The great hall was filled with people dressed in black. One woman with a colored hat was asked to remove it. The large stage was all in black. From the right hung a large American flag and in front of it was a large white bust of Wilson. At the left the Prague teachers' choir (the best chorus in the country), stood among greens and palms. The two boxes had black streamers draped from them to the floor. After everyone had come, President Masaryk, his daughter, Miss Alice, Benes and one or two others entered the box at the left of the stage. And of course the entire audience stood in silence until the president sat down.

As Mr. Hrobicek said of the president, "He does not look like a Chech, he looks more like one of our old Southern gentlemen." Tall thin, small head, white hair—on the sides—white moustache and small pointed beard. His appearance was not a surprise for I have seen his picture in every building, every office, every house and almost every room since I have been in Prague. Mr. Benes was a surprise. A quiet young man, small and almost insignificant looking. But he gave a fine speech, simple and unaffected and sincere in its appreciation of all Wilson had done for Czecho-Slovakia. There was a beautiful prelude on the organ, then the Teachers' choir sang a hymn. Benes and Einstein gave addresses, a very beautiful and impressive quartet of bugle horns and the singing of the American and Czech national anthems in Czech. The Americans said they had never heard the Star Spangled Banner sung so wonderfully. We stood again while the President went out.

Other Prague Paragraph.

I have just been reading an English copy of "Babbitt." It's so funny for they have a glossary in the back to explain the American language to the English. For instance "doggone"—puritanical euphelism for "damn." "Heck"—familiar for Hecuba, a New England diety." "Ice cream soda"—"ice cream in soda water with fruit flavoring, a ghastly hot weather temperance drink." "Phi Beta Kappa"—"name of numerous college sororities," etc.

The Literary Digest and Herald come regularly and are well read.

Love to you all,

Elizabeth.

For Swollen Joints

Most remedies fail but Joint Ease succeeds.

It's for joint troubles only, whether in ankle, knee, hip, elbow, shoulder, finger or spine—whether rheumatic or not.

It limbers up stiff, inflamed, painful creaky joints so quickly you'll be astonished.

"Two seconds" rubbing and away it goes through skin and flesh right down to the sore and ligaments—that's why it succeeds. Ask Brinkman & Shippey or any reliable druggist. Advt.

TAKE TIME

by Grace E. Hall

Take time to do a kindly deed—
You may not know the crying need
Within another's heart.
Sometimes, for just a pleasant tone,
When he's discouraged and alone—
And smiles will soothe a smart.

Take time to say a word or two
To those who walk perchance by you
In lowly, humble ways:
They are the fruits of circumstance
And handicapped beyond advance
Throughout their plodding days.

Take time to touch the empty hand
Of loneliness; few understand
The untold griefs they bear;
There is no sorrow like to this:
The craving just for happiness,
The wasted thoughts none share.

Daddy's Evening Fairy Tale

BY MARY GRAHAM BONNER

IN ZOOLAND

"There has been one zoo," said Daddy, "where they have been able to raise a polar bear cub successfully, for usually polar bear cubs do not live for zoos.

"It is different with big polar bears, but the little polar bears have not found that zoo life agreed with them, but this polar bear found it was different and that zoo life agreed with him perfectly from the time he was a baby cub in the zoo until he became quite good size.

He was so pleased about it that he thought he would sing a polar bear song, and this was his song:

"I'm the Polar Bear so bold
Who loves the weather when it's cold.
I wear a white suit which looks like the snow.
And I'll tell you, too, I'm a dangerous foe.
But oh, how I love a cake of ice.
With it I'm really and truly nice!
I'm a bear that has grown from a tiny bear.
And this is a great event for this zoo.
Where they have raised me since the day I was born
And have cared for me ever since that morn.
My mother, of course, was a great, great help.
She understood my every whelp.
But this is the first zoo to have raised a cub
And they have called me the prize bear Bub!"

"Yes," continued Daddy, "it was a very wonderful event and the zoo people were very proud of it. They didn't want to boast of it until the bear was big enough to really be sure of growing up into strength and full polar bear size.

"Some of the animals were telling the visitors who they were by roaring and talking in their different ways, and though the visitors could not understand them, the animals did their best to be understood.

"'If they want to know Who's Who in Zooland,' said the Polar Bear, 'they can find out a good deal from looking at us. And our keepers will tell them many things about us.

"'Now, in that outside cage, over some distance, Mr. and Mrs. Emeu are telling their friends and those whom they are seeing for the first time about themselves.'

"Oh, I Love a Cake of Ice."

"And," said Daddy, "it was true. Mr. and Mrs. Emeu were stalking about in their yard, and were grunting and snorting their little piece about themselves.

This is what it was when translated into words:

"I am Mrs. Emeu, and I'll have you know
That I keep Mr. Emeu well on the go
For he brings up the children and I make him work,
While every day of mine I shirk.
We have legs like long stilts, and look a bit queer,
And say! it's when it's spring I'm pleased as Punch!"

"And Mr. Emeu said:

"Every word that she says is true.
This is what she makes me do
She never, never will let me shirk.
She sees that I keep at my work.
She makes me bring up the children well,
And only allows herself a cross spell
It's true as she says, that she's cross in the spring.
But at other times she's a pleasant nice thing.
She doesn't mind if I call her a thing
For she knows that I'm willing her praises to sing.
I like her, and that's enough for me.
And though she's strange, she and I agree
I'm willing enough to do all the work
I don't really care to shirk.
I am the very same way, you see, built
And we both have bodies that look like hay,
And most of the time we're happy and gay.
Yes, she tells you the truth in her song,
And I say the same ding-dong, ding dong."

"So," Daddy ended, "those animals and their keepers told the people their names and their histories, and I've put into words you could understand just what it was they said, for the keepers and those who study animals understand animal language and will translate it for people."

Don't Cry, Brewer.

Little Ned had been to the river with water and Daddy, and the most valued part of it was a big red toy balloon which his father bought him on the way home it broke away, and went sailing off through the air. Little sister, seeing him in tears, said:

"Never mind, Neddy, when you die and go to heaven, you'll get it."

Odd Souls.

There are odd souls, who, if people will not be cured from destruction by them get mad at them.

Not Always.

A man is not always known by the company he associates with—as the company sometimes discovers to its cost.
